particular in the educational system of the State, giving its students the benefit of the most modern facilities and the best teachers. Further, as has been suggested, this College is having an ultimate influence on the social life of the State. It is reclaiming the slum, the crippled, the diseased, and making these helpless, hopeless, and unhappy persons into potential citizens.

This result is a natural outgrowth of the free clinics and hospital service furnished by the College of Medicine. But these results have been hastened by the awakening on the part of the State of the benefits accruing to it from normal citizens and the attraction by abnormal ones, with according provisions to improve the conditions of the latter class.

ROLL CALL
Since the University of Iowa established her College of Medicine she has sent her graduates into physicians and nurses—to all parts of the world. They are scattered in far away lands, Chile, Norway, Turkey, China, Japan, Hawaii, and in other foreign lands on their mission of mercy and health. The roll includes 2,097 doctors and 238 nurses. Of the former only 288 are dead and of the latter only nine, although more than a quarter of a century has elapsed since the establishment of the first training school for nurses. A large number of the alumni and former students of the College of Medicine took part in the World War, adding their bit either at home or abroad and in many cases rendering signal service. To-day they are advancing to the front ranks of the profession, being at the same time distinctively honored and reputation in practice and research.

MEDICAL CLINIC
Members of all the sciences all over the State and elsewhere will anticipate the annual medical clinic to be held at the University for two days, April 11 and 12.

Although too early to give the program in detail, it is being arranged and will soon be available. Those who wish further information should address inquiries to Dr. L. W. Dunn or Dr. T. M. McClintock.

LISTENING IN
Next best thing to being present at the Jubilee program on February 25 was "listening in." This gentle art of the University was very busy. The once-down town alumni to hear the program in their office rather than at all. Some even enjoyed an automobile ride from Iowa City to Coralville with the Jubilee thrown in. Such at least was the experience of Charles S. Scott, '03, S. O. H. of the Association, and every assistance will be given to help clans having reunions per- fect their plans. Begin work at once.
